PL 411 Computer Urban Presentation
The course is based on developing student's knowledge, skills and techniques necessary for carrying out digital visualization processes, using advanced computer programs specialized in rendering and 3D modelling. This course aims at giving the students the ability to create virtual environments by interacting with three-dimensional modelling, surfaces and textures, lighting, orbiting and walkthrough within these environments.