

PL 482 Urban Economics

To use new research findings in the field of urban economics, those findings that are closely related to developed cities of the middle-east or the gulf or cities of similar conditions. This is done to bring the course material close to the real conditions of the student's environment.