

PI 490 Graduation Project

The project tackles large scale, multi faceted urban design projects such as city centers design and development. Students are expected to develop clear methodology in order to tackle such problems and be able to propose designs for places that are responsive to social, economic and cultural needs, in addition to being functionally and technically sound.